ALKANA – “Welcome To My Paradise”, released 2012 by Acid Nightmare: 16 Court Street Road, SE 12 GLM, London, UK. Limited edition of 400 copies. 1978 Monster rarity of the Progressive Heavy Rock underworld, über-cult album for the proto-Epic Metal freaks, up there with such legendary albums like “From the Fjords” from Legend, “Armed to the Teeth” from Asia or Ashbury’s “Endless Skies”. Also a must-have for any Pomp-Rock fan and a uggested record on Psych Rock circles, with a mention in Acid Archives. Such is the talent and songwriting skills of California guitar-god Danny Alkana, that this record can actually please different groups of underground Rock fans of the 70’s decade. From straight on rockers like the opener “California Rock’n’Roll Queen” and “On our own”, to the Progressive ideas in “Montezuma’s Revenge” ending up in the most pomp-epic heavy rock anthem “The Tower”, these are 7 songs that everyone agrees: all killers, no fillers! Singing on this record is none other than Mr. Jack Rucker, that went later on in the early 80’s for a short but joyful career with the melodic Epic Metal gods WARLORD! The value of this record is as big as it’s music. Expected for years, finally now Acid Nightmare Records presents in its original vinyl glory, sleeve art maintained intact even with the tracklist errors like the original. Finally we can rest in peace! Alkana LP is coming and you can now save hundreds of dollars! Limited to 400 copies. Cover A: “California Rock & Roll”, “Head Games”, “On Our Own”, “Freedom Lady”. Cover AA: “Paradise”, “The Tower”, “Montazumas Revenge”. https://www.discogs.com/Alkana-Welcome-To-My-Paradise/release/4121632 PRICE = 70,00 Euros.

ALPHA CENTAURI (USA) – “S/t”, LP 1977/2012, reissued by Acid Nightmare Records from UK. Limited to 400 copies, with Insert. Alpha Centauri was formed in Greeley, Colorado in 1971. The band performed its hard driving rock throughout the American Midwest for years opening for artists such as STYX and URIAH HEPP. With a fairly strong US following, the band moved to Canada where they began to write original material. The result was 1977’s long awaited eponymous debut on Salt Records. With the release of the album came more concerts as well as several radio and television appearances including the Canadian TV special “Alpha Centauri In Concert” from 1978. The band was then aiming for the UK, but management problems and road burnout led to the band returning to the USA, appearing on TV’s ‘Rock and Roll America’. Alpha Centauri stayed on the road until 1983 when they finally broke up. In the ‘90’s a resurgence of sorts occurred following a glowing review of their sole album in the International Encyclopedia of Hard Rock and Heavy Metal stating them as the “Worlds best undiscovered Pomp band”. 70’s Hard Rock aficionados began scouring the globe for their only album and in 1995, was issued on CD. Nowadays a rare sought after gem in the collector’s market, Acid Nightmare thought it would be the right time to reissue this Hard Prog Pomp masterpiece on glorious vinyl. The record comes with insert and is limited to 400 copies. https://www.ebay.com/itm/293800534046 PRICE = 25,00 Euros

BEDLAM "Demos Anthology 1968-70 – The Cozy Powell Beginnings" LP – Acid Nightmare – Reissue 2013. Limited to 400 copies. BEDLAM and it's earlier incarnations (Ideal Milk, Big Bertha, etc.) was an hotbed for launching the career of superstar drummer Cozy Powell (RIP), who later played with such major Hard Rock acts as Whitesnake, Rainbow and Black Sabbath. In this earlier stage, we can hear the fantastic guitar playing of Dave Ball very influenced by Cream/Clapton, his brother Denny on bass and Cozy on drums. In fact this early incarnation of Bedlam called Ideal Milk was almost a tribute to Cream. Moving on later, singer Ace Kefford enters the picture for a short stint with the band where they change the band name to Ace Kefford Stand. Ace was the ex-bass player of the Move. The B side of the record has the Big Bertha demos which had different singers including Denny Ball which also sang on Ideal Milk. The style is still similar to Cream/Jeff Beck Group, sometimes with an heavier edge predicting what was going to come after 2 years (meanwhile Cozy was with The Jeff Beck Group and Dave Ball joined Procol Harum). Some of the standout tracks here are "Ring of Fire" with Frank Aiello singing, the same that sang on the only album in the BEDLAM history recorded in 1973, "Funky Woman" which was an amazing track on a B side of a Big Bertha single that gained some momentum in Germany, "For your Love", a brilliant cover of the Yardbirds classic with Ace Kefford singing and the hard edged "Munich City", recorded in Germany in a tape recorder before one of the shows of the Big Bertha German Tour in 1970. Reissue limited to 400 copies with insert that includes detailed song liner notes written by Denny Ball and rare pics. Remastered from the master tapes for best sound quality possible. https://www.discogs.com/Bedlam-Demos-Anthology-1968-1970-The-Cozy-Powell-Beginnings/release/4381253 PRICE = 13,00 Euros

CRYSTAL HAZE – Bootleg LP, released by Acid Nightmare Records, limited to 400 copies with a very cool artwork on the cover. CRYSTAL HAZE are mostly shrouded in mystery, however it is known that the band sprang from the Decatur, Illinois sometime in 1975. Basically comprised of high school friends, CRYSTAL HAZE tracked their sole album mostly live in the studio with vocal duties being split between the two uitarists, Greg Bickers and Dave Ellis. After a rather slipshod attempt at mixing the album was pressed as is in extremely limited numbers. It is rumored that only 100 copies were ever pressed. Since the rather low-key release of their debut album, very little has ever been heard of CRYSTAL HAZE though it is believed the band continued to gig around the area for another year before vanishing and mysteriously leaving their tour bus on someone’s uncles property. Now you can get these original songs recorded May-July 1977 in this bootleg LP. Side A: “Flame”, “Truth Of The Ages”, “In The Night”, “Jenny’s Song”, “Chance”. Side B: “January”, “Stop”, “DNJ”, “Two Times Under”, “Good Night”. 10,00 Euros

EAR DANGER – “Full Blast At Last”, Self-Released LP 2011. Dutch heavy metal band Ear Danger were formed in 1981. By 1982 they would release their first demo. Two more demos followed in 1983 and in 1984 they were part of a four-way split with Atomic Rock, Scum (Nld) and Anwar called Metal Power II. The band’s last demo was 1987’s Shock & Awe. Despite these well received demos and being able to appear on a good split album the band was never able to secure a proper label contract. It certainly wasn’t for lack of trying or for that matter lack of talent. Ear Danger’s brand of heavy metal was well written, played and extremely potent. It was traditional heavy metal of the highest form. Perhaps part of the problem might have been that Ear Danger was plagued by an ever changing lineup. For whatever reason they were never able to nail down that one perfect line-up that might have put them over the top. Now even though the Netherlands has produced quite the lot in regards to good heavy metal (off hand bands that come to mind are Hammerhawk, Dark Wizard, Bodine, Angus, Highway Chile, Allied Forces and Martyr) one of their best remained unsigned and sadly mostly unknown. For those in the know Ear Danger were Dutch heavy metal legends. Hopefully this new LP will show the masses why Ear Danger deserves more recognition. This vinyl only release contains 9 tracks. If memory serves me correct it is limited to just 300 copies and the material in question is collected from their demo period as well as brand new material recorded just for Full Blast At Last. As a sign of just how good this band is the new material blends together nicely with the older material giving Full Blast At Last this perfect flow. For those who are curious here is how the album breaks down. With special thanks to my friend Strappado here is the track list and where each song fits in the grand scheme of things. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Belzeebubs Friend (originally on the Demo #2, 1982) 2. Assassin (originally on Shock & Awe, Demo 2007) 3. The Battle (not on any other recordings) 4. Thousand Days In Sodom (originally on Demo #3, 1983) 5. Hellish Wings (originally on Shock & Awe, Demo 2007) 6. Children of the Sun (not on any other recordings) 7. Burn at the Stake (not on any other recordings) 8. King of the Midnight Fire (originally on Metal Power II, Split EP 1984) 9. Shock & Awe (not on any other recordings) With the line-up of Ivo Metz – Guitar, Leon Lohmann – Guitar / Vocals, Dick Vijgen – Drums and Matt Verschoor – Bass / Backing Vocals perhaps now Ear Danger can finally get the proper press and respect. If there is a down moment to be hand in Full Blast At Last it is the limited quantity. While I can understand how the cost of producing CDs verses the actual profit to be made from sales is slim the fact remains that here is an album that should be heard by more people. This one is every bit as good as the new releases by Hell and Bitches Sin if not better! At only 300 copies it is sure to sell out and then how will a new generation of heavy metal fans get a chance to listen to this classic? Maybe with luck it will eventually be re-issued to CD or offered as a digital download. In the meantime if you want to own a piece of heavy metal history in the making I’d pick this one up a.s.a.p. Full Blast At Last is another album of the year contender. Yes, it is that good. Even if it does sell out (and frankly I’m sure it will) and they don’t re-release it then let’s at least hope that Full Blast At Last encourages some label to pick up Ear Danger so we can get more new material from then. How great that would be! Find out more about the band and how you can pick up this killer album at the link below. http://www.eardanger.com/ https://www.discogs.com/sell/item/982540180 PRICE = 13,00 Euros (SOLD OUT STUFF!!!
